

Salvation Stories

SALVATION IS A "BEFORE AND AFTER" EVENT!

Before I accepted Christ: My name is Anamul, and until recently, my life revolved around the walls of a local Madrasa. I am a 14th-grade student immersed in Islamic studies, trying to understand the path to righteousness. But something always felt...missing.

How I accepted Jesus Christ: Last year, I attended a pre-Christmas program by WIFM -Bangladesh, almost out of curiosity. I didn't know much about Jesus, but the atmosphere was different. There was a sense of peace, a kind of hope I hadn't felt before. But it was just a fleeting moment, and I returned to my studies.

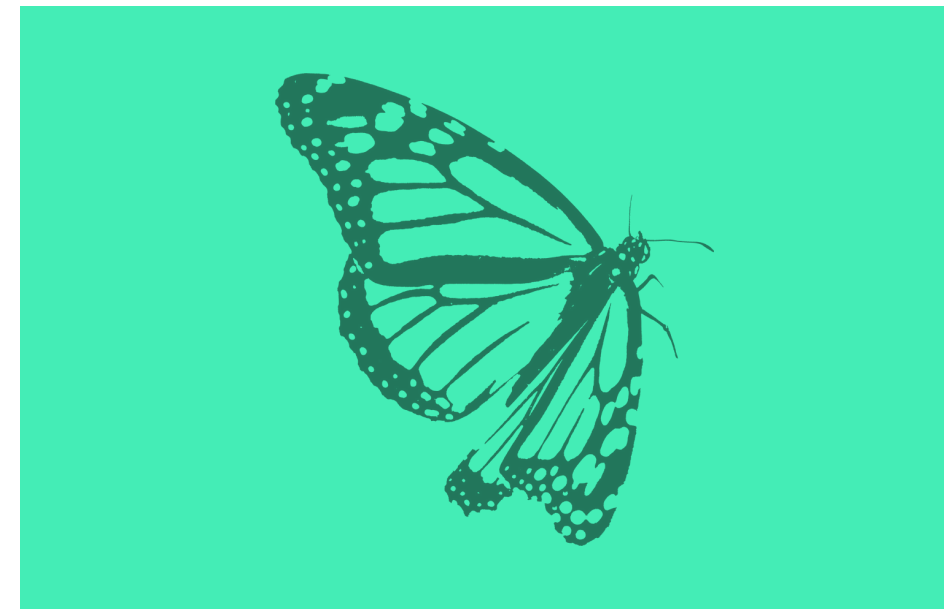

However, the questions lingered. I started to see the gap between my actions and the ideals I was taught. I realized the weight of my sins, the things I had done wrong, and the impossibility of ever truly making myself perfect before God. The weight was crushing.

Then, I remembered the Christmas program and the name of Jesus. I began to wonder, "Could He be the answer?" I started seeking answers, searching online, and that's when I found the video, "How can I be saved?". It explained everything so clearly. It talked about Jesus, God's Son, who died on the cross to pay the price for my sins and rose again. It spoke of grace, a gift freely given, not something I could earn through my efforts.

The idea that someone, God himself, would love me so much to do that...it was overwhelming. I realized that my own efforts were useless. I needed a Savior, and that Savior was Jesus.

So, one afternoon, I decided to go to the place where I had attended the Christmas program. I waited for two hours, patiently, until they returned. I had to talk to them. I had to know more. When they finally returned, they welcomed me with open arms. They spent time with me, explaining the teachings of Jesus in a way I could understand.

We watched several videos from WIFM, and they helped me understand the Bible's message of salvation. I saw the truth clearly:

- I understood that I was a sinner, separated from God.
- I believe that Jesus Christ, God's Son, died for my sins and rose again.
- I confessed Jesus as my Lord and Savior.
- I understood that salvation is a gift of God's grace, received through faith in Jesus, not through my works.

That afternoon, I gave my heart to Jesus. I accepted him as my Lord and Savior. My past life, filled with uncertainty and the weight of sin, was gone. Now, I have a new life, a life filled with hope and the assurance of God's love.

My Present Life: My present life is just beginning. I know there will be challenges, but I also know that I am not alone. I have found a community of believers who are supporting me, and most importantly, I have Jesus. Please pray for me as I begin this new journey. It's truly all about Jesus!
